Proper Bibliographic Reference Format:

- Bibliographic references are double-spaced and indented half an inch after the first line.
- When a DOI is used, no further retrieval information is needed to identify or locate the content. Do not include the database name.
- It is no longer necessary to include retrieval dates unless the source material may change over time (e.g., Wikis).

In-Text Citations:

Citations are placed in the context of discussion using the authors' last names and date of publication.

(Spitz & Hunter, 2005)

Alternatively, you can integrate the citation into the sentence by means of narrative.

Spitz and Hunter (2005) examine why certain assumptions about Napster have gained greater currency while others have not.
